Welcome to our September newsletter! As the Director of CGEST, I am privileged to bring you news from our team and our partners, including updates on upcoming events, opportunities for engagement, and insights into our research and activities.

CGEST Welcomes Dr. Tara Nkrumah, PhD, Postdoctoral Research Associate

CGEST has been the working team and I have had the pleasure of working with Dr. Nkrumah. She brings with her extensive knowledge and expertise in STEM fields. In the coming months, I will feature a brief discussion of how the commitments of intersectionality, culturally responsive education, and a commitment to transform society by studying both the underrepresentation of women and girls in STEM fields. In the coming months, I will talk about the importance of engaging policy makers, educators, and industry leaders to talk about the issue closest to their hearts: why it's important to transform society by studying both the underrepresentation of women and girls in STEM fields.

CGEST Bids Farewell to... Matthew Ruf, Executive Coordinator

CGEST is bidding farewell to Matthew Ruf, our Executive Coordinator. Matthew has been an integral part of the team, and we are grateful for his contributions. In his role, Matthew has been responsible for coordinating and managing the various initiatives for social good. His dedication and hard work have been invaluable to the success of our projects. We wish him all the best in his new endeavors.

CompuPower Program

CGEST is partnering with CompuPower to bring on a full-time team member. AmeriCorps to bring on a team member. AmeriCorps is an opportunity for students to gain valuable experience in the field of technology, while also making a difference in their communities.

Women in Tech: Discussing AR and XR

CGEST is hosting its second STEM Equity Exchange of 2019, on September 18th. The event brings together researchers seeking to transform society by studying both the underrepresentation of women and girls in STEM fields, and the intersectionality of race, gender, and other social indicators. The event will be held on September 18th, and registration is now open. Please join us for this exciting event.

Women of Color Summit

The Women of Color Summit will be held from March 18th to 20th, 2020, in Hawai‘i! Please check out the save-the-date flyer above and register now! The summit will bring together women of color and allies to work together to create technological solutions and social change. It is an opportunity for participants to work together to create technological solutions and social change.

Reception

A reception will be held on September 12th, 2019, to celebrate the achievements of our students. The reception will be held from 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm, and is open to the public. Please join us for this special event.

Upcoming Opportunities

The CGEST E-Newsletter provides updates on each of our areas of work and shares upcoming opportunities for involvement and support. We hope you enjoy the material and would love to hear from you regarding any feedback you may have.

Thank you for reading!